

Discovery in Agnes Water

Alexander Symonds

A $35 million-plus development at Agnes Water on the coast of Queensland is set to get under way in the middle of this year, offering 52 units in an increasingly sought after part of the country.

A number of builders have submitted tenders for the construction of Discovery, a 5000 square metre development close to the Great Barrier Reef.

A director of the development, Diana Macdonald, said she expected that building would be completed towards the end of 2008. Prices for the units start at $317,000 and stretch to $1.45 million for a penthouse.

The architect is Tim Guymer of Guymer Bailey.